A quality educational standard and attention to ‘hands on’, practical training helps students graduate with exceptional skill sets, gaining a competitive edge when applying for their chosen vocational positions in the workplace.

I have been active in the beauty therapy industry for 11 years, firstly as a Nail Technician, closely followed as a Beauty Therapist. I have always had a keen interest in the education sector, with the desire to pass on both my knowledge and strive for excellence in beauty therapy education. I am lucky enough to have the opportunity to travel the world as an International ITEC examiner. This has enabled me to experience first hand international beauty therapy standards. At ANCB we know the requirements of a 5 star therapist, and this is reflected in the education standard of ANCB programs.

I sincerely believe that ANCB is moving into an era of incrementally measurable excellence. I am excited and proud of their accomplishments so far, and look forward to sharing the ANCB experience with all enrolling and continuing students.

When I chose professional beauty and spa therapies as my future career, I did detailed research and learnt that ANCB has an excellent reputation in all areas of beauty and spa studies. ANCB is also the largest CIDESCO international school in Australia and provides training and examinations for all CIDESCO International certifications. This was exactly what I wanted!

What I like the most about studying at ANCB are the lecturers. They all have extensive experience in the industry and I enjoyed very much learning from them day to day. They are very professional in their areas of expertise but also helpful in giving career advice and help build job seeking skills.

I am currently working as a spa therapist in Chi Spa – Shangri-la Hotel Sydney (one of the most luxurious spas in Sydney). I conduct various treatments, including facial, body massage, and scrubs. When looking for a job, I always utilised the ANCB job finder, as there are always many career opportunities!

My advice to future students is to study hard and remember all of the details you learn during your practical training and clinical hours at ANCB. During my studies, I had the opportunity to put theory into practice and was provided with the necessary skills and confidence to work in the real world.

I chose ANCB because I believe the best way to judge a college is to actually visit the premises. From the very beginning I felt that ANCB had the best facilities and equipment needed for my course and after speaking to a few of the lecturers I felt confident that I would be receiving the best education.

I have always had an interest in beauty therapy, but at this point in my life I felt it was time to learn more about it. I wanted to learn more about the skin, about the body and about general wellbeing.

What I loved the most about my course was the variety and diversity it offered. I learned something new every single day and I never got bored! From facials to reflexology, from stone therapy massage to aromatherapy, not a day went by that I wasn't delighted with my decision to come here. I have also been given the opportunity to go to the World CIDESCO Congress held in Kyoto as my CIDESCO thesis was chosen for Australia. I can’t believe how far I have come!

I am currently working at a fat reduction and anti-ageing clinic working with machinery. I look forward to taking another course at ANCB in IPL, laser and micro-dermabrasion. I find that working with machinery is what really interests me and of course, I always want to keep learning!
