About the transaction

Peter Everingham, Managing Director of SEEK Education, said:

“We are delighted to be partnering with a global leader in higher education. Laureate has strong expertise in working alongside local institutions and sharing their global best practices across curriculum, technology, academia and operations.”

“Over the last 18-24 months, THINK has been through a significant change management and re-investment period which are both delivering financial results. In H2 FY12, the THINK business achieved Revenue of $46.5m and EBITDA of $5.0m. We believe that THINK is well positioned to continue the positive momentum through FY13 and beyond, particularly with the additional expertise that Laureate can bring”

Michael Ilczynski, SEEK’s Group Strategy Director, added:

“This transaction is consistent with SEEK’s preferred model in Education. Across IDP, Swinburne Online and now THINK we have successfully implemented a model whereby SEEK can leverage its core competencies in business development and sales and marketing alongside a strategic partner who has deep expertise within the relevant field of the education marketplace. We believe that Laureate’s involvement in THINK will be mutually beneficial to both parties.”
Michael Mann, Laureate’s Managing Director Asia-Pacific, said:

“We are excited to partner with SEEK and THINK. Australia and its higher education institutions have an extraordinary track record for providing high quality and truly international education. We believe THINK is very well positioned to meet the emerging needs of many different types of students in Australia and that THINK has only just begun to realize its potential. Our organizations share many core values including quality, innovation, accessibility, industry-linkages, student-centricity, and a focus on outcomes. We hope Laureate’s capabilities and experience in international higher education and distance and online learning can help THINK continue and accelerate its current momentum. We are looking forward to engaging with SEEK and THINK in the year ahead and hope this investment is a first step on the path to closer collaboration and a deeper and broader relationship.”
